

Fruits and vegetables come in all colors of the rainbow. From deep red to bright green, orange and yellow, these colors come from natural ingredients. They give them their color and their healthy properties.